

Beckford Bell

Friday 16th November

Dear All,

This week I have had the pleasure of visiting the children's reading lessons across the school. It has been wonderful to see children engaged with books and reading with such confidence.

We have also had a lot of children complete their first bookmark for reading 21 books at home. We encourage all of the children to read for 20 minutes everyday. This should lead to all children completing their first bookmark within the Autumn term. Please make sure you are regularly checking your child's reading record and making a note of the books they have read. Happy reading!!

Yours

Samantha Smith

ANTI-BULLYING WEEK

This week we marked Anti-bullying week 2018. The theme this year is "Choose Respect" so we all thought about what the word "respect" means to us and looked at some examples:

ASK BEFORE YOU BORROW SOMETHING FROM A CLASSMATE

ALLOWING SOMEONE TO FINISH SPEAKING BEFORE YOU DO (not interrupting)

LISTENING WHEN SOMEONE IS SPEAKING

#ANTIBULLYINGWEEK

At Beckford we respect and celebrate our differences. We wore odd socks to school on Friday as a fun way of showing that we think it's great to be different!

Quiz:

Do you know which Beckford teacher often wears odd socks to school?

Answer below.

For our Anti-bullying assembly this week, Rhine class asked if they could share some of the work they have been doing in circle time on being kind.

They are lucky enough to have a magic remote control, so when something goes wrong, they can rewind and try again to be kind.

"Respect means treating everybody equally" Nasreen.

"Respect is when you open the door for someone" Noor

"Respect means giving up your seat for an older person or someone who is pregnant or disabled" Muhammad

"Respect means saying nice things" Nico

Quiz answer: Mr Tranter
